

With classic styling and beautiful vintage details, this chiming wall clock is a must-have piece. Hang in any room in your home for an added touch of class and beauty.

Unique Finish: This antique wall clock is finished in vintage mahogany on select hardwoods and veneers. The careful craftsmanship of the clock makes this a timeless and lasting piece.

Detailed Design: No detail was overlooked in the creation of this clock. An individually carved, scalloped shell on the pediment is designed similar to a John Goddard original. The highly polished Viennese dial is overlaid with individual convex chapter rings and a center disc with an enameled finish. The front-opening door features beveled glass and a polished brass-finished lyre pendulum swings by a beat plate.

Precise Movement: A high-precision key-wound, triple-chime movement plays your choice of Westminster, St. Michael, or Whittington chimes, allowing you to enjoy the beautiful sounds of this chiming wall clock.

Extra Features: An industry exclusive dual-ratchet winding arbor on this traditional wall clock with pendulum ensures safe movement winding. Additionally, the clock features a chime silence option and durable bronze bushings. The entire piece was designed and assembled in the USA.
