

Grace your living room with the Jonathan Grandfather Clock. This elegant timepiece has a traditional design and cherry finish for an antique look, and it plays Westminster chimes to mark every hour and quarter-hour.

Sturdy and Stylish: This clock is designed and crafted in the USA from select hardwoods and veneers. A Windsor Cherry finish imparts warmth and goes with almost any interior color palette, while the swan neck pediment, turned finial, and shell overlay adds antique-inspired style.

Brass-Finish Accents: The pendulum and weights have a polished brass finish for traditional beauty, while the dial has a brushed and polished brass finish with a silver chapter ring. Black Roman numerals and black hands add elegant contrast, while a midnight blue moon phase illustration appears at the top for a celestial touch.

Traditional Chimes: Enjoy the melodic sound of Westminster chimes and a strike on every hour. This clock also sounds on every quarter-hour, and it has a chime silence option for when you want total quiet.

Heirloom Quality: Included with this timepiece is an Heirloom Record Document with a brass finish capsule. It also comes with an Heirloom Nameplate, which will be engraved with the name and date of your choice.

Chain-Driven Movement: This wooden grandfather clock has chain-driven movement.
