

Capture the style and sophistication of old-world antique timepieces with the Scarborough wooden grandfather clock. In a rich shade of golden oak, this distinctive wooden grandfather clock has a bonnet pediment with book-matched olive ash burl overlays, a trio of turned urn finials, and delicately carved rosettes, along with elegant final support.

Glossy Detailing: The illuminated dial is a masterpiece, finished in brushed satin brass, and boasting a cast center with corner ornaments. Above the dial is an eye-catching moon arch featuring an astrological blue moon phase elevated by a pierced star pattern. There is also a silver chapter ring with applied brass Arabic numerals.

Door Accents: Behind the glass door is a striking pendulum featuring a cast center disk and banded weight shells, each featuring an elegant brushed satin brass finish that beautifully accents the dial. On each side of the door is a column with a large reed and turned column cap. At the multi-tiered bombe base are distinctive molding and a decorative cutout.

The clock also features a glass mirror at the back, along with traditional Gadroon molding and patterned beveled glass at the lower door. The top side panels are detachable, allowing simple access to the movement. The base features adjustable levelers to ensure stability on any surface. A free heirloom record document with a brass-finished capsule is included, and a free brass heirloom nameplate can be engraved with a name and the date of your choosing.

Precision Movement: High-precision, cable-driven, triple-chime movement plays choice of Westminster, St. Michael, or Whittington 1/4, 1/2, and 3/4 chimes accordingly with full chime and strike on the hour. An automatic nighttime chime shut-off is optional.
